Core features

Doly is Dentons' global operating system-connecting 12,000 lawyers across 80 countries into one seamless, intelligent network.

Built on Dentons' polycentric philosophy, Doly transforms distributed ability into a unified, powerful advantage.

THE CHALLENGE

What We Saw

01

CHALLENGE 01

Knowledge Lives in Silos

40 mergers in 12 years created 40 separate knowledge bases. Expertise is invisible across borders, lawyers cannot find what the firm already knows.

CHALLENGE 02

No Incentive to Collaborate Globally

The Swiss verein structure keeps office finances separate. Cross-border collaboration relies on personal goodwill rather than system design.

CHALLENGE 03

Cultural Intelligence is Undocumented

Decades of market expertise ; negotiation norms, communication styles, regulatory nuance exists only in individual lawyers' heads. Never captured. Never shared.

CHALLENGE 04

Time Zones Break Momentum

Cross-border matters stall when offices close. Without intelligent task routing, client progress depends on manual coordination across 24-hour gaps.

"The right expertise exists inside Dentons. The opportunity is making it instantly accessible - to every lawyer, on every matter, everywhere."
